THE JOURNEY OF FAITH

A night sky filled with stars over a desert landscape with sand dunes. The sky is a deep blue, densely populated with stars of various colors and sizes. A prominent red star is visible in the upper left quadrant. The foreground shows the silhouettes of sand dunes in a warm, golden-brown hue, with a faint trail visible on the right side.

Our Journey of Faith

The image features a deep blue night sky filled with numerous stars of varying brightness. In the foreground, the golden-brown sand dunes of a desert are visible, with some faint tracks or indentations in the sand. The overall scene is serene and evocative, suggesting a vast, open landscape under a clear, starry sky.

All these people were still living by faith when they died. They did not receive the things promised; they only saw them and welcomed them from a distance, admitting that they were foreigners and strangers on earth.

By faith Abraham, when called to go to a place he would later receive as his inheritance, obeyed and went, even though he did not know where he was going. By faith he made his home in the promised land like a stranger in a foreign country; he lived in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. For he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God.

People who say such things show that they are looking for a country of their own. If they had been thinking of the country they had left, they would have had opportunity to return. Instead, they were longing for a better country—a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them.
